WELCOME TO EAST LOS ANGELES COLLEGE

The college is committed to increasing student success and academic excellence through student-centered instruction, student-centered support services, and dynamic technologies. One indicator of this commitment is the Helen Miller Bailey Library, which opened in the fall 2012 semester. This 56,000 square-foot library features 240 computers for student use, access to 60 online databases, wireless printing, and 25 study rooms. Since its opening, the library has been filled with students taking advantage of these critical resources to help them succeed in their classes.

You will find a number of other construction projects under way on campus. Construction has already begun on the Student Success and Retention Center, which will provide state-of-the-art classrooms for students in our English, ESL, foreign language, Chicano Studies, and Speech departments, and expanded space for our Writing Center, Learning Center, and Honors Program. Next to come are the Student Center and Science Careers and Mathematics Building.

The college's Student Success Committee has been working closely with our Counseling, Math, and English departments to prepare new students to identify and achieve their goals. Over the coming years, students will all benefit from enhanced orientation, assessment, and counseling services that will get you started on the fastest path to earning degrees and certificates, transferring to university, and preparing for the workforce.

Our commitment to you is that you can “Start at ELAC, Go Anywhere.” Choose where you want to go and we are here to help you get there.
