Project MATCH

Project MATCH, a program of the Los Angeles College Community College District is recruiting interns for Fall 2013. This program is open to all those who possess the minimum qualifications to teach a subject at the Los Angeles Community College District. If you know people who are interested teaching any academic or vocational discipline offered at LACCD (e.g. Math, Speech, Culinary Arts, etc. examples only), please refer them to the Project MATCH webpage.

Candidates must have met the minimum qualifications (all degrees must have been attained at the time of application). The intern must not have had paid teaching, counseling or librarian experience at the college level.

The interns will be placed at one of the nine colleges of the District depending on their preferences and mentor availabilities. The colleges are: Trade-Tech, Los Angeles Valley, Los Angeles Mission, Harbor, West, East, Southwest, Pierce and Los Angeles City. The program also includes a Summer Institute, a program designed to give participants an introduction to community college teaching/librarianship/counseling and prepare them for the internship. The required commitment will be 3 hours per week during the fall 2013 semester. Most events will provide lunch and dinner as appropriate. There are also two dinner events - the first one is to meet the mentors and the final Project MATCH graduation held in December 2013.

There is also a stipend of $800 paid in two installments.

Applications are accepted from November 1, 2012 through February 1, 2013.

Please contact the Office of Diversity Programs with questions (213) 891-2315. Also, there is more information on the Project MATCH web page http://www.laccd.edu/project_match/.
A Note from the Dia De Los Muertos Committee,

As event coordinator of our First annual Día De Los Muertos Event at East Los Angeles College, I would like to take this opportunity to thank many people for helping us make this program possible. In particular, I would like to express my gratitude to ASU for its primary sponsorship as well as Whole Foods Market Arroyo for providing snacks for the 160 children from ELAC’s Day Care Center who were in attendance. Also, vendors and student organizations that were present were essential in promoting cultural awareness on this day. Muchas gracias to all of them. Due to the participation of all of those involved, we had an extremely successful turnout with approximately 400-500 people in attendance throughout the day.

In addition, I want to acknowledge all those, especially Joyce García for her generous donation, who supported our Toy Drive for Wish Upon An Angel Foundation, which works in helping terminally ill children. Faculty, administration and staff at the college were also instrumental in assisting to make our event a success. Among those who provided their unconditional support, I would like to make special mention of President Farley Herzek, VP Oscar Valeriano, Evelyn Escaño, Susan Okawa, Dean Sonia López, María García Yepes, Jennifer Estrada (ASU President), Karen Rapp and Victor Parra. Without your help and dedication, this day would have not been possible.

In addition, from the Department of Chicano Studies, I would like to further acknowledge Professors Eddie Flores, Sybil Venegas, Andrew Monzón and Heidi Urita-López. Thank you all for your backing. Also to Mary Romo, Felipe Lopez, Gerardo Gutierrez, Beatriz Tapia, and Nadine Bermudez for attending and working our booth.

Finally, I would like to comment that the music of Conjunto Hueyapan de la Familia Herrera and Quetzal as well as dance performances by Xipe Totec Aztec danzantes and the Ixtli Yolotl dance group were absolutely phenomenal. Their presentations received incredible positive feedback and served to artistically enhance Día de los Muertos at ELAC. Once again, to all of our supporters and those involved, thank you very much for everything. A special thanks to Homeboy Industries for their help in promoting the event throughout the city. This festival would not have been possible with all of you involved! See you next year for the 2nd Annual!!

Sincerely,

Professor Angelita Rovero-Herrera
