Camp Staff

ELAC Men’s Basketball Coach John Molloy is the director of the Summer Night Basketball Camp. In his first season at ELAC Molloy recorded a 21-8 record and 1st trip to the CCCAA state playoffs in over a decade with 1st ever historic playoff game. This season ELAC Men’s Basketball team recorded a ranking as high as #7 statewide in the coaches poll. Coach Molloy’s coaching experience includes, NCAA Div I & II, NAIA Div II, Junior College, High School, Professional Free Agents and AAU Coaching. On hand to assist coach Molloy will be members of his staff and current players of the East Los Angeles College Men’s Basketball Program.

Camp program: The East Los Angeles College Basketball camp is designed to provide instruction in improving basketball skills and fundamentals for Boys and Girls age 7-14. Campers will be divided into groups according to age & skill. Instruction will also help the individuals learn how to play as a team.

As event coordinator of our First annual Cinco de Mayo Festival at East Los Angeles College, I would like to take this opportunity to thank many people for helping us make this program possible. In particular, I would like to express my gratitude to ASU for its primary sponsorship as well as Whole Foods Market Arroyo for providing snacks for the 160 children from ELAC’s Day Care Center who were in attendance. Also, vendors and student organizations that were present were essential in promoting cultural awareness on this day. Muchas gracias to all of them. Due to the participation of all of those involved, we had an extremely successful turnout with approximately 300-400 people in attendance throughout the day.

In addition, I want to acknowledge all those, especially ASU for being our sponsor and supporting this cultural event. Faculty, administration and staff at the college were also instrumental in assisting to make our event a success. Among those who provided their unconditional support, I would like to make special mention of Evelyn Escatiola, Susan Okawa, Dean Sonia López, Jennifer Estrada (ASU President), Jesse Orellana (ASU Executive Vice President), Johanna Guerra (ASU Vice President of Finance) and Priscilla Buelna. Without your help and dedication, this day would have not been possible. Thank you to President Farley Herzek and Vice President of Student Services Oscar Valeriano for their ongoing support.

In addition, from the Department of Chicano Studies, I would like to further acknowledge Professors Eddie Flores, Andrew Monzón and Tony Sandoval. Thank you all for your backing. Also to Mary Romo, Felipe Lopez, Gerardo Gutierrez for attending.

Finally, I would like to comment that the music of Conjunto Hueyapan de la Familia Herrera, Domingo 7, Mariachi Estrella de Jalisco and 2013 Grammy Award winners for Best Latin Alternative, Urban or Rock band Quetzal, and dance performance by Ixtli Yolotl dance group were absolutely phenomenal. Their presentations received incredible positive feedback and served to artistically enhance Cinco de Mayo at ELAC. Once again, to all of our supporters and those involved, thank you very much for everything. A special thanks to Homeboy Industries for their help in promoting the event throughout the city. This festival would not have been possible with all of you involved! See you next year for the 2nd Annual!!

Sincerely,

Professor Angelita Rovero-Herrera,
Department of Chicano Studies

Michael Wyche Commits to USC:
Trojans Land Big JUCO DT

BY RANDY CHAMBERS (FEATURED COLUMNIST) ON MAY 3, 2013

It didn’t take long for defensive tackle Michael Wyche to make his decision. After making an unofficial visit to USC on May 2, the 315-pound defensive lineman was offered a scholarship and later committed that same day, according to Rivals.

"I came down to USC for an unofficial visit, and I was very fortunate to sit down and meet with Lane Kiffin, Coach Ed Orgeron and Tee Martin," said Wyche. "It was just amazing because they’re such great people. We talked and I toured the facilities around the school.

"After that, Coach Kiffin told me they were going to offer me a full-ride scholarship to USC. Honestly, it was pretty overwhelming. He said the main reason they felt so good about me was my character. They felt I was a high character guy and that they couldn’t wait to have me become a part of their program." If only every offer was that easy.

Wyche also had offers from Arkansas State, Troy and Washington State, but he was thrilled when USC extended its offer. This will allow him to continue to play football in the California area, as he played his JUCO ball at East Los Angeles College. Wyche hasn’t had the easiest life. His father is serving time in prison and his mother just passed away after a battle with cancer, according to the Rivals report.

"I’ve gone from being a homeless kid to a USC prospect. I’m still in shock right now. I’ve got my three sisters and my daughter. My daughter’s mother is very supportive too, so I have people around me," Wyche said.

While Wyche has more than enough reasons to be thrilled with this opportunity, USC also couldn’t be any happier. Just the fourth early commitment for the 2014 class, Wyche will add much-needed depth along the defensive line. He will fit in well in the new-look defense under Clancy Pendergast, as the Trojans landed only one defensive tackle in last year’s recruiting class. Wyche compares his story to another player USC defensive line coach Ed Orgeron’s past.

I’m similar to a player of his that he used to coach named, Michael Oher. They made a movie about him a couple of years ago called ‘The Blindside.’ Our story is almost exactly the same, except I didn’t get blessed with the people he did.

Orgeron was at Mississippi when Oher was a member of the team. And if Wyche’s impact on the USC defense is similar to Oher’s on the Ole Miss offensive, USC fans will consider this commitment a home run.

Workshop Descriptions

Know Your Library: A scavenger hunt guides student to library services and illustrates the library’s layout and the organization of materials.

Research Boot Camp: It’s time to get students’ research skills in shape! Students gain useful strategies on how to read and understand an assignment prompt, as well as identify the right sources needed to complete the assignment. In other words, we’ll be flexing students’ research muscles!

Got Books: Yes, the library actually has books and you can find them! Through hands-on exploration students learn the organization of library materials and how to use the library catalog to find books and DVDs.

Got Articles: Research is all about articles and guess what? The library has everything students need to find all kinds of articles. Students are introduced to our article databases and practice finding various types of articles.

Smart Google Searching: Do you control Google or does Google control you? Google’s awesome, but like all superheroes you must learn to harness this powerful information tool! Learn helpful tips to get better and credible websites.

Cite Right: You’ve found information, but now how do you cite it? How do you know your paper is plagiarism free? Students are introduced to the concept of citation using MLA, review examples of plagiarism, and create an MLA citation.

Go Digital with E-Books: Everybody’s going digital and you can too! Want to learn how to access ELAC’s electronic book collection like a pro? Then come join us as we explore our ebook catalog, as well as Google books.

One-on-One Research Help: Encourage students struggling with your research project to attend! Limited to 10 students, in this workshop, a librarian will provide individualized help. Students need an assignment prompt or instructions to be admitted.

Motor oil poisons water.

Used motor oil and used oil filters are also toxic and harm the environment, marine life, and everyone in your community. Protect your world.

Recycle used motor oil and used oil filters at collection events or at a local Certified Collection Center. Contaminated oil is not recyclable, so store oil in a leak-proof container without mixing it with other liquids.

Don’t Dump. Recycle.

Recycle your used motor oil and used oil filter at the collection event below:
